Mermaid Roshan and the Dust Bunnies

“Look, Daddy!
Pearl Castle!”

The plane landed at Sky Lagoon.
Pearl Castle was close by.

“Let’s look inside,
Daddy,” said Roshan.

Inside, dust covered the floor.
“It’s SO messy!” said Roshan.
“Where do we start?”

Sniff, sniff!
Someone was sniffling
behind a big shell door.
“Hello?” said Roshan. But the door was stuck.
“We’ll come back!” she promised.

Daddy gave her a duster and two sponges.
"One little job at a time," said Daddy.

A dust bunny splashed in the dirty bath.
Splash, splash! Gunk went everywhere!
The little bunny just wanted to play.

Roshan started with one little job: the sink.
Round and round went her sponge!

The dust bunny hopped out, and Roshan pulled the plug.
Out went the dirty water!
She scrubbed
the tub.
Scrub, scrub!

Soon the bath was sparkling clean.
Now the dust bunny had a good place to play!
Far away, someone went sniff, sniff.

Rumi was stuck under the gunk.
She needed help!

"I'll help!" said Roshan.
Scoop, scoop!

Rainbow colors
peeked through the gunk.

Whoosh! The waterfall turned rainbow!
The pool was magic.
Its rainbow had been hiding under the gunk!

A cup was stuck in the fountain.
Roshan pulled it free. Whoosh!

The gunk washed away. Up came Rumi!
She had lived in Pearl Castle for hundreds of years.
Now she was free!

"You helped me!"
said Rumi.
She gave Roshan
a great big hug.
"If you ever need help, just call!"

Chirp, chirp! A worried little chirp came from the playroom.
“Someone needs help!” said
Roshan.

Two dust bunnies sat on Baby Eagle.
They just wanted to play, but he was stuck!
“I’ll help!” said Roshan.

She gently brushed one bunny away,
then the other.

Baby Eagle was free!
"Chirp, chirp!" he said happily.
"Let's all play gently," said Roshan.

Sorry!

We'll be gentle!

In the art room, Roshan put the paints in their places. She scrubbed the table. Scrub, scrub! "One little job at a time," she sang.

Sparkles flew from every clean room to the big shell door. Click! Roshan kept her promise. Behind the door, someone sneezed... AH-CHOO!

It was Grand Puff, the biggest dust bunny of all!
Every sneeze puffed out more dust.
He did not feel well.

Roshan wasn't mad. "I'll help!" she said.
But Grand Puff was too big to wash alone.
"Can you help me?" she called.

“We’ll help!” said Daddy and Rumi.
“Chirp, chirp!” said Baby Eagle.
Together, they washed Grand Puff. Scrub, scrub!

Soft bubbles covered Grand Puff.
Then rainbow colors peeked through the bubbles!

POP! Grand Puff sprang out, rainbow bright!
The dust fell away.

Down came Grand Puff, soft and small.
"I feel all better!" he said.

The art room was tidy.
Pearl Castle was clean again!
It was a big job, but friends can do big jobs together!

“Sorry about all the dust,” said Grand Puff.
“That’s okay,” said Roshan.
“You just needed help. Everyone needs help sometimes!”

“Come and rest with us!” said Roshan. There was room for everyone, even the dust bunnies. They curled up together and fell asleep.

Pearl Castle needs help.
Where will Roshan begin?
